Second Sunday of Easter

FOURTH PRESBY TERIAN CHURCH

A LIGHT IN THE CITY

The continuing miracle of Easter . . . [is] that you and I may rise from the death in which we now find ourselves, and become in our ordinary lives beings of extraordinary witness to Christ so that in addition to the ample silver and gold that we all have, we may give something that the world needs: power and the love of the risen, living Savior Jesus Christ. That is the vocation of ordinary people, and it happens to people just like ourselves.

Originally written for the oratorio Joshua in 1748, it was used again in Handel's oratorio Judas Maccabeus in 1751. In Judas Maccabeus, it was the setting for the text "See, the conquering hero comes." In 1760, the music was first published as a hymn tune, as the setting for Charles Wesley's text "Christ the Lord Is Risen Today!" which is Hymn 113 in The Presbyterian Hymnal.

Vespers Service

6:30 p.m.

The beginning of the prelude is a call to silent, personal preparation for the worship of God.

Prelude Prelude and Fugue in C Major Johann Sebastian Bach

Call to Worship and Invocation

Leader: Christ is risen!

People: He is risen indeed!

Leader: We are called by the living Christ.

People: Let us delight in his presence and reaffirm our love and commitment to God and neighbor.

Leader: Let us gather here to praise God.

All: Eternal God, whom we praise through the mighty universe, as we gather here in the name of the risen Christ, uplift us with never-ending Easter joy. Extend our worship beyond habit, deep into that place where delight and praise flow more freely than the air we breathe. To the glory of your name. Amen.

Hymn 108 "Christ Is Alive!" Brian Wren

Prayer of Confession

(unison)

Loving God, Savior of the weak and the foolish, and also Savior of the strong and wise, we confess that we have sinned and fallen short of the glory of Jesus Christ. We have rushed in where we should have gone in gently; we have stood on the sidelines when we should have been involved. For our successes, we have looked for too much praise, and in our failures, we have accepted too little responsibility. We have grabbed for shallow happiness at the expense of others, and have avoided generous impulses, which would have produced joy. We, who should be best friends with ourselves, are often our own worst enemies. Now we turn to you for understanding, forgiveness, correction, and courage. Have mercy upon us.
Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Declaration of Pardon

Leader: Friends, believe the good news.

All: In Jesus Christ, we are forgiven.

my hands. Reach out your hand and put it in my side. Do not doubt but believe.'" John 20:27 (NRSV)

Hymn 380 "O Christ, the Healer" Fred Pratt Green

Affirmation of Faith

(unison)

We are not alone, we live in God's world. We believe in God: who has created and is creating, who has come in Jesus, the Word made flesh, to reconcile and make new, who works in us and others by the Spirit. We trust in God. We are called to be the Church: to celebrate God's presence, to love and serve others, to seek justice and resist evil, to proclaim Jesus, crucified and risen, our Judge and our Hope. In life, in death, in life beyond death, God is with us. We are not alone. Thanks be to God.

Prayers of the People

Offering

Offertory Anthem

"Christ the Lord Is Risen Again"

Eric Thiman

Christ the Lord is risen again. Christ hath broken every chain. Hark! Angelic voices cry, singing evermore on high, alleluia. He, who gave for us his life, who for us endured the strife, is our Paschal Lamb today. We too sing for joy and say alleluia. He, who bore our pain and loss, comfortless upon the cross, lives in glory now on high, pleads for us, and hears our cry. Alleluia. Hymns of praise then let us sing unto Christ our heavenly king, who endured the cross and grave, sinners to redeem and save. Amen.
