The incarnation is precisely about how the judge became the friend; how God took our side, stood with us and finally for us. The incarnation is about how God moved from impartiality to partiality, from distant thunderer to compassionate companion.

The text of the opening hymn, "Come, Thou Fount of Every Blessing," was written by Robert Robinson around the year 1758. Robinson (1735-1790), who was born in Norfolk, England, was a barber. After attending an evangelistic service, he began to work for evangelical revivals and later became a Baptist minister. In the second stanza of this hymn he refers to an "Ebenezer," which is the name of the memorial stone set up by Samuel after the victory at Mizpah (1 Samuel 7). Robinson uses the term as an allusion to the text "Thus far the Lord has helped us" (1 Samuel 7:12).

*Affirmation of Faith

(unison)

In Christ, God gave us a glimpse of the new creation God has already begun and will surely finish. We do not know when the final day will come. In our time we see only broken and scattered signs that the renewal of all things is under way. We do not yet see the end of cruelty and suffering in the world, the church, or our own lives. But we see Jesus as Lord. As he stands at the center of history, he will judge all people and nations. Evil will be condemned and rooted out of God's good creation. There will be no more tears or pain. All things will be made new. This hope gives us courage to contend against all opposition, however invincible it may seem, for the new world and the new humanity that are surely coming. Amen.

“TRUST, TAKE DELIGHT, AND COMMIT” STEWARDSHIP SEASON 2002

This morning’s Minute for Mission is presented by the Pfaff family on behalf of the Stewardship Committee as part of stewardship season at Fourth Presbyterian Church. Each October Fourth Church sets aside this time to celebrate the individual and collective gifts that together support the operations, mission, and ministry of this congregation.

Stewardship materials have been mailed and pledge cards are available in the pew racks. The Stewardship Committee asks that you please submit your 2002 pledge by Sunday, October 28, either by placing it in the offering plate or by mailing it to the church. It is these pledges that enable Fourth Church to faithfully plan and carry out programs, mission outreach, and ministry for the year ahead.

As pledges are received, the blue covering on the Sanctuary banners will be cut away, revealing images of Christian faith and love and symbolizing what our collective gifts can do. Many of the images in the banners, designed and created by Nancy Chinn, of Oakland, California, come from the nave windows. Toward the end of the 2002 stewardship season, look for a printed list of all the images, their locations in the nave, and their meanings.

For more information about stewardship and pledging, contact Sarah Sarchet Butter at ext. 270 (ssbutter@fourthchurch.org).
