Fourth Sunday after Pentecost

God gave you a great gift that terrible night, Tony dear. He gave you a vision of Hell. Not that silly fire and brimstone stuff. True Hell. Being alone with yourself for all eternity. Only your own self to hope in, only your own self to love . . . As you said, a prison with no door. I don't think that vision will ever come to you again. You must never forget it.

*APOSTLES' CREED (unison)
I believe in God the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth,
and in Jesus Christ his only Son our Lord;
who was conceived by the Holy Ghost,
born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate,
was crucified, dead, and buried; he descended into hell;
the third day he rose again from the dead;

he ascended into heaven,
and sitteth on the right hand of God the Father Almighty;
from thence he shall come to judge the quick and the dead.
I believe in the Holy Ghost; the holy catholic church;
the communion of saints; the forgiveness of sins;
the resurrection of the body; and the life everlasting.
Amen.

IN THE DETAILS

The Great East Window in the Fourth Presbyterian Church sanctuary was designed by Charles J. Connick with the stone tracery intended to be reminiscent of the traditional "Jesse tree." With the vine, leaves, and grapes providing a background for the large figures, this window, known as the Nettie Fowler McCormick Memorial Window, is similar to Connick's east window in the Princeton University Chapel.

Shown on this page is the second window panel from the left, in which Peter stands with book and keys. Below him in the window (upper right) is a representation of the New Testament parable of the sower (Mark 4:1–20), and below that is a depiction of the Old Testament allegory of the vineyard and tower on a fruitful hill (Isaiah 5).
