

Advent is rehearsal time. Advent prepares us for the joyful task of joining with all creation and singing in the reign of Jesus Christ. . . . So pull out the Gospel of Luke and read the first few chapters in the weeks before Christmas. Or, get a recording of Handel's Messiah and play it and sing along—if not out loud, then in your heart of hearts: “For unto us a child is born, a son is given.” Practice singing the light and warmth of Christ into every dark corner of this world: In the million-mile-long shopping lines, in the life of a child who has come to believe that Santa Claus is the sole reason for the season, in a hurting world torn apart by division. . . . Sing expectantly of him who is King of kings and Lord of lords! . . . Belt it out with confidence: “And he shall reign forever and ever.”

Worship Notes

Today's Minute for Mission is being presented by Sandra Nelson on behalf of the "Light Up a Life" year-end giving campaign.

Today's offertory anthem, "Ave Maria," was composed by German composer and arranger Franz Biebl (1906–2001). Biebl worked in Munich as a choral music consultant for the Bavarian State Radio, where he encouraged and supported small choral groups throughout Germany. "Ave Maria" is a devotional text that commemorates the incarnation and, in this anthem, incorporates a musical style that beautifully blends medieval chant, lyric melody, and lush harmony.

The Advent banners, in the form of wings, convey the idea of Advent stillness and of waiting in the presence of angels. They were designed and painted by Eliza Linley of Berkeley, California.

The stained glass window shown on the bulletin cover depicts angels praising God with harp and strings, as Psalm 150 calls us to do. The window, located in the reception area west of Anderson Hall, was designed by Charles J. Connick.
